HAS THE PANDEMIC CHANGED THE WAY WE GROW EFFECTIVELY AS LEADERS?

Panelists: Claude Petit (Astellas)

Erik Pulkstenis (Abbvie)

Grant Weller (Intellisense)

It is evident that the pandemic has changed our lives forever in different ways, and many have learned to cope with it. However, there are vital lessons we can learn and apply to becoming better leaders and helping others grow in their leadership. While pre-pandemic leadership traits were understood, the real test came during the pandemic when leaders had to be intentional in building trust in a stressful environment, driving personal development for career growth, and effectively communicating within a remote setting.
