

UMN BIostatISTICS VIRTUAL INFO SESSIONS

Learn more about our Biostatistics PhD, Biostatistics MS, and Public Health Data Science MPH programs!

Located in vibrant Minneapolis, our Biostatistics division is one of the country's top-ranked programs. We develop statistical methods for biomedical research and collaborate on high-impact research involving HIV/AIDS, heart and lung disease, cancer, omics, neuroimaging, and many other clinical disciplines. All admitted PhD students receive free tuition and a stipend, with some funding and scholarships available for MS and MPH students. An MS is not required for PhD admission.
